

Diversity Policy

At inside story, we recognize and value diversity broadly as the differences in viewpoints and beliefs, backgrounds, experience, expertise and personalities.

Our approach is about bringing together these differences and people with a variety of perspectives and from different backgrounds, and creating a community in which those differences are valued.

inside story is committed to embracing diversity and opposing all forms of unlawful and unfair discrimination. We ensure our staff understand our commitment and we strive to communicate this commitment to our readership community.

inside story is committed to being an equal opportunities employer, aligned to inclusion and diversity values as our organically diverse team expands.

inside story aims to including people from all backgrounds in its community. This is promoted systematically by articles addressing issues of diversity, such as LGBTQI, feminism, people with disabilities and minorities.